

The Daily Courier.

Debates are second class matter at the post office, Connellsville.
THE COURIER COMPANY,
Editor,
H. E. SNYDER,
President and Manager, Editor,
JAMES J. D'ARCOLE,
Secretary and Treasurer,
Advertising and Circulation Manager.

SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 28, '14.

CROW'S EXPENSE ACCOUNT.
Senator Crow's expense account shows that he expended approximately $1,000 in the recent campaign in Fayette County, and much information over the matter by the opposition newspapers.

An analysis of the accounts, however, shows that the expenditures were as follows: Advertising, $345; printing and postage, $35; clerical bills, $720; Chapman, Fayette County Committee, $1,230; total, $3,035. It will be noticed, however, that Senator Crow spent directly in his own behalf but $7,650, all of it for perfectly legitimate purposes. The balance was paid to Chairman Sawyer and was undoubtedly expended for the election of the whole Republican ticket.

With this, however, it is seen that Senator Crow's expenses were largely contributions to the Republican campaign in Fayette County. But the money expended directly by himself was spent for the same "little publicity" which was much in demand in Democratic circles, and that this publicity was doubtless of a general character calculated to unmask the whole Republican ticket.

The Democratic assumption that the Republicans would spend large sums of money in the late campaign was not warranted by the facts. Public sentiment was plainly that overwhelmingly Republican. Republican campaign managers didn't have to buy votes, and Democratic campaign managers couldn't buy them.

GRACIAS.

According to the terms of the prophecy of the oracle of Fayette County New Freedom, the election of Penrose and Crow was to be followed by an immediate resumption of the military needs of the Confederate in the region and of the industries of Pennsylvania generally, which it will be remembered were alleged to have been closed down. In order to create a temporary depression for the purpose of closing the Republicans mentioned.

There has been some inquiry on the part of ignorant people why Penrose and Crow have not started the coke ovens and the mills and furnaces. Probably it might be well to remind them of the fact that Penrose and Crow didn't stop the industries and cannot consequently start them; that the premise that they should resume after the election was not made by Penrose and Crow, but by the Unionists who are the Postost machine; and that the prediction is entitled to no more serious consideration than some other political prophecy emanating from the same source, for example, the assurance that coke would be $4 a ton in 1915.

The decision of the Republican ticket to fight is not to be disregarded, however, to the country, but it has set the fact of the nation on the right road.

The forces returning the Democratic ticket to office are not to be disregarded, however, to the country, but it has set the fact of the nation on the right road.

The Connelville automobile expedition to the Pacific Coast is making good time with good weather and dry roads. If it can dodge the western blizzard on its native plain, it will no doubt make a record run. There's nothing show about the Connelville tourists.

The city business has been shore but steady.

Whether or not coal, the substitute for gasoline, can be manufactured for two cents per gallon, is no longer of interest to the public. It is acknowledged that its manufacture is already in a fit to be supplied by the standard oil companies, and that in any event the new product will not be sold at a cost but at near-gasoline line prices.

But the boys are all right so long as they don't bully the younger lads who are not fit for their class physically.

A local correspondent of the United Press is slowly bleeding Germany to death, very slowly.

Western Pennsylvania is threatened with another winter famine. The news on the general prohibition topic news the better it is to automobile.

Some of the wonderful stories which come from the Europe in arms front makes us difficultly understand why the commanders object to war correspondents. Too many snake editors break into the battle lines.

A leading German newspaper says peace talk is treacherous. It is also hunting, and it is a question whether it is not traitorous.

With Villa at Mexico City and Carranza at Veracruz it seems to be time to start another delivery from the insurgent North.

The vote for United States Senator puts the Republican party first and the Democratic party third on the west Pennsylvania ballot. We have come back.

The time to War Tax is no longer, time then to ship a tax or the working class to tax or serious side will be soon.

Early this week Republican candidates for Congress in our district had closed out all the year. In the Colonial Club he believes in pressing the friend

Looking Backward.

News of the Past Condensed from the Pages of The Courier.

EDINBURGH, NOVEMBER 29, 1894.

Partial report of the coke trade for the week ending Saturday, November 19, shows a total of 17,574 ovens in the region, of which 13,915 are active and 3,659 are idle, with an estimated production of 141,000 tons. Shipments for the week, 8,916 tons, equivalent to 1,000 cars. In Pittsburgh, 2,558 cars to points West, 3,558 cars to points East, 1,500 cars.

Price, November, $1.15; furnace, $1; coal, $1.30 to a ton.

The demand for coke takes a sudden start and over 8,000 cars go out of the region during the week. Many more are expected to go in.

James Cochran, oldest and one of the largest coke operators in the region, died at his home in Dawson, aged 70 years.

The proposition to council to open up again through the old graveyard back of the Fourth ward school solves the spirits of the departed who now there to protect and mighty spirits are held by the ghosts in visible form. Persons who have kept a watch night in the graveyard declare there is no doubt about it—the spooks are rising.

In a crash of freight trains on the Southwest branch at Evanson, Alexander George, a brakeman, suffers severe injuries.

A. C. Gillmore, a former employee of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad here, goes to Shadyside, W. Va., to work for the Standard Oil Company.

J. G. Hirsch gives a party in honor of the 21st birthday of his son, James.

Engineer F. A. Leibinger assigned to passenger run between Connellsville and Pittsburgh, after running the Youth Express for six years.

Rev. Bishop Phelan of the Epiphany disease admittance contribution to 100 children in the Immediate Conception Church.

EDINBURGH, NOVEMBER 28, 1894.

The coke trade is depressed. Fewer and smaller bags quantities are shutting down and the demand is falling off. The lot of idle ovens totals 1,513, compared with 4,382 a week ago.

Town council offers the Baltimore & Ohio railroad free trees near track privileges, and proposes to submit a proposition to donate $25,000 to the railroad in a vote of the people, if the railroad shops are established here.

Andrew Sukie of Trotter dies from the effects of blows about the head from a washboard wielded by William Santmeyer, who became enraged when he and several companions were refused admission to a foreign hall.

Burglar rob East End Hotel restaurant of quantity of cutlery and George Bowditch's news stand of $10 worth of robbery and about $12 in cash.

Waverly is visited by a $20,000 lot of the independent oil and three other large lots of oil.

John Clifford of the Association Addiction robbed of all his belongings by a boy who rifle his trunk. They overlooked, however, $250 concealed in a false bottom of the trunk.

EDINBURGH, NOVEMBER 29, 1894.

Detailed report of the coke trade for the week ending Saturday, November 19, shows a total of 23,320 ovens in the region, of which 16,274 are active and 7,056 are idle, with an estimated production of 196,511 tons. Shipments for the week aggregated 12,200 tons, compared as follows: To the South, 3,788 tons to points West, 6,125 tons to points East, 1,259 tons.

The market is still in a languid state and the trade taken a quiet.

The C. & P. Coke Company has given orders to see every town.

Prices are expected to rise accordingly.

Superintendent of the Human Sheet & Tin Plate Mill receives orders to put the plant in shape for resumption. The mill employs 29 men.

As a result of an alleged attack on Rev. W. W. Swickard of Mount Pleasant, and Rev. P. F. Heneker of Scottsdale, by Gray and McGahey Wade of Bullskin township, the former is expected to lose his hearing. The accusers have been arrested.

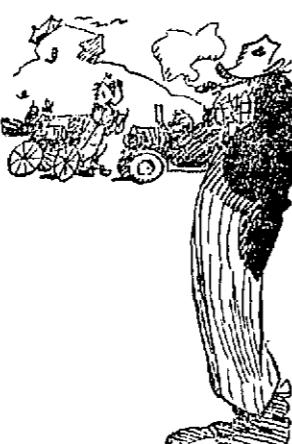

At a meeting of the United Presbyterian congregation, Kell Long, Dr. J. F. Kerr and W. E. Shaw are elected elders.

After a lingering illness George W. Vinton Rogers died at his home on Apple street, aged 51 years.

It is well that postmen walk for a day drilled on the farm of D. L. Long, near Stoystown, Somerset.

In order to compete with the noted company, the Pennsylvania railroad reduces its fare between Greensburg and Latrobe almost one-half. The rate from Connellsville to Greensburg and return is cut from $1.25 to 50¢.

Col. Ray Husted passes the state board examination and is qualified as a druggist's assistant.

Abe Martin.

The day just passed when you run foot a community by yourself. A Prime Minister's man scheme for th winter don't forget by ashes.

When the Doctor Reads It*CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

One Cent a Word.
No Advertisement for Less Than One Cent.

Classified columns close at noon. Advertisements of wants, sales, etc., received after that hour will not appear until the day following.

EDINBURGH, NOVEMBER 29, 1894.

The coke trade is depressed. Fewer and smaller bags quantities are shutting down and the demand is falling off. The lot of idle ovens totals 1,513, compared with 4,382 a week ago.

Town council offers the Baltimore & Ohio railroad free trees near track privileges, and proposes to submit a proposition to donate $25,000 to the railroad in a vote of the people, if the railroad shops are established here.

Andrew Sukie of Trotter dies from the effects of blows about the head from a washboard wielded by William Santmeyer, who became enraged when he and several companions were refused admission to a foreign hall.

Burglar rob East End Hotel restaurant of quantity of cutlery and George Bowditch's news stand of $10 worth of robbery and about $12 in cash.

Waverly is visited by a $20,000 lot of the independent oil and three other large lots of oil.

John Clifford of the Association Addiction robbed of all his belongings by a boy who rifle his trunk. They overlooked, however, $250 concealed in a false bottom of the trunk.

EDINBURGH, NOVEMBER 29, 1894.

Detailed report of the coke trade for the week ending Saturday, November 19, shows a total of 23,320 ovens in the region, of which 16,274 are active and 7,056 are idle, with an estimated production of 196,511 tons. Shipments for the week aggregated 12,200 tons, compared as follows: To the South, 3,788 tons to points West, 6,125 tons to points East, 1,259 tons.

The market is still in a languid state and the trade taken a quiet.

The C. & P. Coke Company has given orders to see every town.

Prices are expected to rise accordingly.

Superintendent of the Human Sheet & Tin Plate Mill receives orders to put the plant in shape for resumption. The mill employs 29 men.

As a result of an alleged attack on Rev. W. W. Swickard of Mount Pleasant, and Rev. P. F. Heneker of Scottsdale, by Gray and McGahey Wade of Bullskin township, the former is expected to lose his hearing. The accusers have been arrested.

At a meeting of the United Presbyterian congregation, Kell Long, Dr. J. F. Kerr and W. E. Shaw are elected elders.

After a lingering illness George W. Vinton Rogers died at his home on Apple street, aged 51 years.

It is well that postmen walk for a day drilled on the farm of D. L. Long, near Stoystown, Somerset.

In order to compete with the noted company, the Pennsylvania railroad reduces its fare between Greensburg and Latrobe almost one-half. The rate from Connellsville to Greensburg and return is cut from $1.25 to 50¢.

Col. Ray Husted passes the state board examination and is qualified as a druggist's assistant.

EDINBURGH, NOVEMBER 29, 1894.

The coke trade is depressed. Fewer and smaller bags quantities are shutting down and the demand is falling off. The lot of idle ovens totals 1,513, compared with 4,382 a week ago.

Town council offers the Baltimore & Ohio railroad free trees near track privileges, and proposes to submit a proposition to donate $25,000 to the railroad in a vote of the people, if the railroad shops are established here.

Andrew Sukie of Trotter dies from the effects of blows about the head from a washboard wielded by William Santmeyer, who became enraged when he and several companions were refused admission to a foreign hall.

Burglar rob East End Hotel restaurant of quantity of cutlery and George Bowditch's news stand of $10 worth of robbery and about $12 in cash.

Waverly is visited by a $20,000 lot of the independent oil and three other large lots of oil.

John Clifford of the Association Addiction robbed of all his belongings by a boy who rifle his trunk. They overlooked, however, $250 concealed in a false bottom of the trunk.

EDINBURGH, NOVEMBER 29, 1894.

Detailed report of the coke trade for the week ending Saturday, November 19, shows a total of 23,320 ovens in the region, of which 16,274 are active and 7,056 are idle, with an estimated production of 196,511 tons. Shipments for the week aggregated 12,200 tons, compared as follows: To the South, 3,788 tons to points West, 6,125 tons to points East, 1,259 tons.

The market is still in a languid state and the trade taken a quiet.

The C. & P. Coke Company has given orders to see every town.

Prices are expected to rise accordingly.

Superintendent of the Human Sheet & Tin Plate Mill receives orders to put the plant in shape for resumption. The mill employs 29 men.

As a result of an alleged attack on Rev. W. W. Swickard of Mount Pleasant, and Rev. P. F. Heneker of Scottsdale, by Gray and McGahey Wade of Bullskin township, the former is expected to lose his hearing. The accusers have been arrested.

At a meeting of the United Presbyterian congregation, Kell Long, Dr. J. F. Kerr and W. E. Shaw are elected elders.

After a lingering illness George W. Vinton Rogers died at his home on Apple street, aged 51 years.

It is well that postmen walk for a day drilled on the farm of D. L. Long, near Stoystown, Somerset.

In order to compete with the noted company, the Pennsylvania railroad reduces its fare between Greensburg and Latrobe almost one-half. The rate from Connellsville to Greensburg and return is cut from $1.25 to 50¢.

Col. Ray Husted passes the state board examination and is qualified as a druggist's assistant.

EDINBURGH, NOVEMBER 29, 1894.

Detailed report of the coke trade for the week ending Saturday, November 19, shows a total of 23,320 ovens in the region, of which 16,274 are active and 7,056 are idle, with an estimated production of 196,511 tons. Shipments for the week aggregated 12,200 tons, compared as follows: To the South, 3,788 tons to points West, 6,125 tons to points East, 1,259 tons.

The market is still in a languid state and the trade taken a quiet.

The C. & P. Coke Company has given orders to see every town.

Prices are expected to rise accordingly.

Superintendent of the Human Sheet & Tin Plate Mill receives orders to put the plant in shape for resumption. The mill employs 29 men.

